

B(IF)TEK 2020 Electro Pop
SONY

Progressive Chic French house or futuristic Japanese minimal beats? This record redefines rules and best of all its Aussie. Yep, this sublime sonic sculpture using mainly old analogue equipment is the brain/love child of Kate Crawford and Nicole Skeltyrs (Electro Lollipop Explosion) who met in Canberra in 1995. From the ARIA Nominated "Bedrock" (best dance single) to the minimal pop re-work of the Cliff Richard track "Wired for Sound" you will experience an eclectic mirage of oscillating mastery. The Future is here and it's got our stamp of approval.

Jamie

Brother Sister - 22nd September 2000